Tories run scared to avoid hearing the truth

It has just been announced that the Tory MPs have been called to see David Cameron this afternoon, Tuesday 19 October, avoiding the meeting with union members and representatives from across the country.

Despite UNISON members travelling hundreds of miles to see their MPs, the Tory MPs have decided to put their leader before their constituents.

Ian Ducat, Regional Secretary, UNISON South West said:

“They will not escape. We will be arranging to meet them in their constituencies to challenge the Coalition's disastrous cuts. This is no way to run a Government, hiding from the truth.”
